

Tips for using the Court Calendar:

The Main Calendar

When opened, the Court Calendar will display the current week's schedule for all judges, magistrate judges, court offices and reserved space within the federal courthouses in the Southern District of West Virginia.

For each day listed will bear the following information:

The first column will display the scheduled time and the location. If you click on the location, the system will display the street address and any courtroom or room number in which the proceeding is being held.

The screenshot shows a web-based calendar interface. At the top, there is a link for 'Printer Friendly Version' and a title bar 'CALENDAR QUICK VIEW - Date Range is 1/30/2006 and 2/5/2006'. Below this is a table with five columns: Time Location, Case Number, Case Style, Event Category, and Judge. The table is filtered for 'MONDAY - January 30, 2006'. The first row is a header for 'BLUEFIELD WEEK' with Judge Faber. Subsequent rows list specific events with times and locations (e.g., 8:00 AM Charleston, 8:30 AM In Chambers, 8:30 AM Beckley, 9:30 AM Charleston, 10:00 AM Charleston, 10:00 AM Huntington, 11:00 AM Bluefield, 11:00 AM). Each row includes a case number (e.g., 2:05-cr-232/01, 2:05-cr-243/01, 3:05-cr-100/03, 1:02-cr-144, 2:04-cr-), a case title (e.g., USA v. Brian Jones, USA v. Ronald Maxwell, Jr., USA v. Mark Stratton, USA v. Roger D. Gibson, Jr., USA v. Michael Parker), an event category (e.g., Status Hearing, Plea, Plea Hearing, Initial Appearance, Sentencing), and a judge (e.g., Copenhaver, Taylor, Chambers, VanDervort).

| 11:00 AM | 2:04-cr- | USA v. Michael Parker | Sentencing | Copenhaver |

The second column will display the case number. Although the number appears underscored and in blue, it is not a hyperlink to the case file.

The third column will display the case title, i.e., U.S. v. John Doe or Doe v. Doe.

The fourth column will display the event category, or type of proceeding being held.

The fifth column will display the last name of the judicial officer who will be holding the proceeding. When “outside agency” appears in this column, it indicates that the scheduled event is not a court event before a judicial officer of the Southern District of West Virginia.

Any listing appearing in red type means that entry has been added or modified on the calendar within the previous five days. This is meant to draw your attention to recent changes.

The Views and Reports Features

To the left of the main calendar, you will find the Views and Reports features:

The screenshot shows a sidebar with two main sections: 'Views' and 'Reports'. To the right of the sidebar, a portion of the calendar grid is visible, showing a Monday schedule with time slots and names like Charles, Chamb, Beckle, and Bluefie.
